Greg Campanile, Professional Counselor Associate

Head and Heart Therapy

917 SW Oak St., Office 303

Portland, OR, 97205, greg@headandhearttherapypdx.com

Philosophy and Approach: Therapy can be a place to connect with what is most important in life. My goal is to create a space where you can work through life's challenges, uncover inner strengths, and learn to develop a deeper inner trust.

My approach prioritizes creating a therapeutic relationship with my clients as the basis for using interventions from Internal Family Systems and psychodynamic therapies. I work to facilitate a space that feels safe for my clients to explore and heal parts of themselves that may be keeping them stuck, and to move forward in a way that feels authentic and congruent with the client's goals.

Formal Education and Training: I hold an MA in Professional Mental Health Counseling from the Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling in Portland, OR. My coursework included Life Span Development, Diagnosis, Addictions, Career Counseling, Group, and Family Therapy. I also completed three semesters of internship at the William Temple House, working with underserved and uninsured clients, where I received training in DBT, Motivational Interviewing, and Addictions. I also hold a BA in English from the George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

As a Registered Associate with the Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and Therapists, I abide by its Code of Ethics. As an associate, I am supervised by Sarah Dobey, MAC, LPC, ACS (Oregon/C4237) and Bre Herock LPC, ACS (Oregon/C7838).

Fees: For information on fee structure, contact Head and Heart Therapy at (971) 200-0482.
